New York City Charter § 1136.1(2)(b), as amended by the City Council in December 2004, prohibits a public servant from using government resources “for a mass mailing that is postmarked, if mailed, or delivered, if by other means” within ninety days of an election in which he or she is a candidate, subject to certain exceptions. The Board, upon its own initiative, is considering whether to issue an advisory opinion on the question whether “delivered” includes distributing literature from stationary tables or other fixed locations at public events and locations, including community events, campaign events, and street fairs.
