

Public Advocate

Sidique Wai (D)

Hi, my name is Sidique Wai, and I am running for Public Advocate to be a voice for all New Yorkers who want to make our city an even better place to live. I want to build new affordable housing so that teachers, union members, police officers and other city employees working towards our prosperity can afford to live in the neighborhoods in which they work, and can build better relationships with the citizens they serve. We need jobs. I will cultivate economic development for local businesses, and create jobs by building new transportation and infrastructure through the advancement of green technology and the imagination of our city's entrepreneurs. I want to institute public healthcare options at the city level to ease burdens on businesses and citizens without health insurance. We must also do a much better job of fostering more open and honest communication between the NYPD and the citizen's they protect. We can stay committed to reducing crime, while ensuring that fair civil rights and liberties are enjoyed by people and families throughout our city. My breadth of experience in public safety, community empowerment, healthcare, housing and civil rights, and my strong commitment to advancing a more intimate sense of community between people of all races and classes, as well as new immigrants assimilating into our city, make me ideally qualified to serve you as your advocate. Let's begin the journey together. On Tuesday, September 10th, I want to earn your vote!

Reprinted as supplied by the candidate. Participating in the Campaign Finance Program.